ABSTRACT

Handling the rich children on matters of education. The rich families are facing many challenges and they become much stressful everyday not that they lack expensive vehicles like V 8, No it is not that. In fact they have very many vehicles on their home yard beautiful classic bungalows parking area. The parking area consists of heavy vehicles such as the new hurriers, Prado's, brand new Mercedes bench. They drive and exchange these vehicles just like some of us exchange their clothes everyday. Rich tycoon families live in the most fantastic magic mansions made up of pure imported glasses. The environment around the mansions is very cool, pleasant, attractive and most comfortable area for one can imagine to live on. In other words the places are recommended for stress management due to its unique nature of the place. When I grow up I want to build such houses like it is a dream of everyone who is going through education. Education is a tool of changing life. However children from these rich families cause these parents to be full of stress and tears mostly the mothers find themselves shedding tears everyday. These children despite of a lot of resources in the family they perform so poorly, become so indisciplined and most of them engage in drug abuse. Below is a research study carried out among the rich families and corrected the data concerning their children's performance in education and causes of their poor performance and finally the recommendations to help a "poor" rich kid. Measure to take for the current improvement of education using new reforms and modern instruction in education especially for post covid19
